“ Mary and family please accept my condolences. Though Brent and I have not been in touch for a number of years, I have and will continue to think of my friend. Our experiences together are part of the person I am. We hunted and fished during high school and after. He was the finest sportsman and companion for our adventures. Much of this was with our friend Steve Kall who also left us far too young. The thought of the times the three of us had hunting and fishing brings a smile to my face. These were formative times for me that shaped all the outdoor adventures I have since had. Brent taught me to fly fish on the Rifle River in preparation for the trip we took together to Yellowstone in '84 or '85. We took his Dad's suburban and camped, hiked, backpacked, fished and had a grand time. Brent, I hope where you are the fish are hitting and the hunting is all fair weather...

“ Mary, Rebecca, Andrew and Zachery, you are being held so closely in the hearts and prayers of your friends and family. I know that the harder times may be in the days, weeks and months from today, when some special event or activity will be a reminder that Brent has gone early to be with the Lord. It will be on those days especially that you can count on me for an extra hug and prayer. As Christians, we know that this is a celebration for Brent. As people hurting, we know this is a hard time to face. But know that you are not facing hurt alone. You have a Lord who also suffered and knows grief. He has promises for you to carry your burdens. Rely on all His good gifts for you as He sends you smiles, hugs and joy from others who will surround you at this time. Have peace in knowing your faith and Brent's is totally secure and for him, now fulfilled.

“ I'll never forget the time you gutshot that buck and we had to covertly head a half mile into the neighbors property to retrieve your deer as it's starting us both down standing there. That's as far as I'll go. The rest is between you and me buddy. I'll miss you. Thanks for the head mounts, I'll cherish those for a lifetime.
