“ I only met Carl one time, at my rummage sale...what an incredible man, kind, friendly, and very easy to talk to. For those that knew him I am sure he will be missed. May God look over his family and friends.

“ Sorry for your loss. I knew “Little Carl” when he lived in Chesaning. He and my brother Robbie, were best friends. What one didn’t think of to get in trouble, the other one would. I remember when Grandma Bohn would chase after the boys with a shoe, for teasing the pigs. I never saw them run so fast! The boys had this special scream they would do to get the other to come over to play. It was loud and high pitched and no one in the neighborhood could copy that scream. I know it devastated Little Carl when Robbie died so young. I’m sure the two of them are up there being best buds again. 🌹

I forgot to mention that my parents are Lana and Robert Traub and we lived diagonally from Little Carl’s house. He would stand in his backyard and do the “scream” to get Robbie to come outside.
