“ Though I didn't know her well, it was easy to see Gloria's strength and beauty. My prayers and support go out to all her family.

Me and Mary send our deepest sympathy to you and your families. Aunt Gloria was a true fighter all throughout her life. I remember she had her nicknames that she called us even throughout our adult lives. I know they are having a big reunion in heaven, we will be with them all when the Lord calls us home. I wish I was able to come out there, but was unable to get time off of work. Love and miss you all.

“ Our kids would always knock on each other's doors and ask if they could come out and play. Once the kids went back to school in September, I went to Gloria's house, knocked on the door and yelled, "can Gloria come out and play?". We both laughed so hard. This became a custom. For decades, she would come to my place, or me to hers, and this would become our greeting, sending us both laughing again.
