“ I was Joe's Hemlock School bus driver. He sat up front often and we talked a lot. We developed a special bond. He saw me at a band concert Paige was in one night and He was so excited to tell me he was working at Burger King and to stop and see him. I did get to see him there. So sorry to hear that the world lost this great young person.

I'm so sorry-my condolences to the Newvine family. I was Joe's middle school principal and kept up with him thru high school and beyond. He was a fun young man and very sharp with a great sense of humor. When he decided to go after something, he did a great job.
