“ My brother and I lived next door to Josh back in Mooresville, NC 2004 era. Josh was a great neighbor and helped defend us on numerous occasions at the local bar Ten O' Clock Charlie's. We enjoyed partying at the bar and anytime trouble started, Josh was the first to jump in.....and they backed down. Josh was awesome, Bringer of Death!!

Not only was he a co-worker, but he was a brother. Big heart, solid guy, always respected because thats how he treated others.I know in God's plan it was his time, but it's still hard to believe. Love you my brother. Rest In Peace.*

“ I have so many memories of Josh, he was one of my closest friends in high school, but we definitely had a lot of fun at concerts. He was on of my favorite concert buddies, and I would ask him to B go all the time. I didn't have a license for a long time do to an accident I had when I was 14. Which he quickly named me crash test. Yup that nick name was all Josh.

“ Joshua always had that huge smile for me when ever we saw each other . That smile with a hug . When he was little and running around Grandma and Grandpa house, His socks half off his feet . Uncle Joe would say ,” pull those socks up your gonna trip! Joshua’s little brother Greg followed in his foot steps with the socks
