“ Joshua and I spent many days and nights hanging out. He was my best friend of my whole life. We used to do everything together! From having iced coffee to sharing the gospel. We wrestled, laughed, cried, and everything else in between. We lost and found each other, like we hadn't missed a day. We hid nothing from each other, no matter what. Josh cherished my friendship. My favorite thing that Joshua did was his impressions. He could do an impression of anyone at the drop of a hat. Josh was a great writer and I miss being his editor. Partners in crime, but also partners in good. Our friendship was envied to many. Josh would hate when I told him I loved him, but anyone who knew us together knew that, and it was mutual. He didn't have to say it back, I knew he loved me and he did too. I miss you Josh and my life is not the same without you.

“ Dear Sue and Harold,

Ray and I were so sorry to hear about Josh. We enjoyed getting to know him when he worked for us at the Daily Dish. He put his whole heart into that job for us! Without being asked, he created a flyer and distributed it all over town in order to get our name out there. He was friendly and professional with all the customers. He even taught us a trick or two regarding the square pizza!

Josh shared some of his struggles with us, and also his faith. We'll always remember him as being bright and engaging. Our hearts go out to you. May he Rest In Peace.

“ Josh worked for me in the Bakery at the Bavarian Inn. (My last name is also Little so, together, we were "representin"!) Josh started on a day when we had an unusual order for 200 Guten Morgan coffee cakes, so we grabbed him to help with the massive production. He was impressive, and we thought, "This guy can work!"

Plus, Josh was a "foodie". He LOVED food! He would come in and tell us all about the little culinary masterpieces he had whipped up for dinner. He also loved to share that passion. Sometimes he would bring in something he had made as a treat for his 3rd Shift co-workers. When visiting the Farmer's Market one day, he discovered a cheese that he especially liked, so he came back to the Bakery with samples for everyone. (I still buy that cheese to this day.)

Josh was smart and interested in so many things. He got me hooked on the television program, "The Curse of Oak Island" and, the day after it aired each week, we would discuss the episode at length. His enthusiasm was infectious!

We are going to miss Josh, his hearty laugh, and that pretty, bald head of his. While he openly shared some of his struggles with us, he always spoke of his goals and his desire to rise above his challenges. What we know for sure is that Josh lived while he was alive!

“ Josh Little was my friend! My wife and I loved him. He could light up a room. We laughed, worked and shared together. We also prayed together. He had some inner demons that he could not work out. When he let his soul shine it was amazing. He will always be a part of me. I can rest in peace knowing that you are in a better place with our Lord.

“ Sue and Harold, sorry to hear of the passing of Josh. He was a good employee while he worked for me at the dealership. I also talked to him at times while he worked elsewhere. We had our discussions from time to time and you should know that most of those times we included the Lord our Savior. Know that he is now in Heaven where he is suffering no more. Blessings to you.
