“ *Pete,
It has been two years today since your death. Miss you and wish you could still be here. The two years seem to have gone by fast, yet slow at the same time. Wanted more time with you, but that wasn't to be.
Miss you daily.

“ *Pete,
It is Christmas Eve. You never like Christmas or the holidays but you always stood by me with celebrations, sometimes very reluctantly. Miss you and sure wish you were here. I know you are in a better place and no longer suffering. Just wish our lives together did not have to end so soon.
Love and miss you

“ *Pete,
Just picked up your brother at the airport. He is here for your sister and nephew. Feel bad that you aren't here to help him deal with this. I truly hope things go well. Joel has his hands full and I am sure he feels helpless being so far away. I am just giving any support that I can. We talked about you briefly and said we wanted to ring your neck for leaving us so soon. We know that you knew what was going on and just were so private and kept things to yourself, instead of sharing with us. We truly miss you every day. We just put one foot in front of the other and move on one day at a time.
Miss you and love you

“ Pete,

*It has been one year today since we lost you. Still miss you every day. This time of year has been extremely difficult. Grizzly and I are doing OK. You helped me to be a stronger person, which helps with the healing. Am trying to stay busy, which helps. I still wish we could have had more time together, but am thankful for the years we had and remembering the good times. I know you are watching down on us and proud of how we have managed to come thru this difficult time. Family and friends have helped beyond my imagination.
Love you and miss you always

“ Pete,

*Today is our anniversary...would have been 31 years. Remember when we met and married so quickly, everyone thought it would not last. I was so happy to marry you and to be married for 30 years. Unfortunately, you were taken from me too early. I try to remember all the good times, when you were feeling well and not dwell on the last few years when you were ill. Miss you today and always.

“ Pete,

It has been six months today since your passing. Am trying to get thru this, one day at a time. Thank goodness for friends and family. I do miss you everyday. Would do anything to hear you say "yes dear" to just about anything I had to say, especially when you weren't really listening. Will be always thinking about you, but I know you are not suffering any more. That you were not really happy the last part of your life. Hopefully things are better in Heaven.

Love and miss you

“ Peter,

Today is your birthday, would have been 68. You never liked birthday celebrations anyway, especially if it was for you. Has been a long couple of months, just take one day at time. Miss you daily and probably always will...30 years together is a long time.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY IN HEAVEN

“ I send my condolences to the wife and children of Mr. Peter Donald Morden, reading his obituary and Mrs. Morden writing lets me know that he was a very special person to you all. I am sorry that you have to live on without him, but may you know that God is healing the brokenhearted: He will bind up your wounds.- Psalms 147:3 He cares for you and to endure this great loss, throw your burden on Him and He will sustain you all.- Psalms 55:22. May these words soothes your hearts in the days and years to come.

“ My dear husband, Today has been a week since your passing. Don't know why you had to leave us so early. Thought we would have more time. You were always there for everyone and there was nothing I could do so save you. My heart is broken and I miss you. You gave us a good married life and I will always be grateful for the time we had. Until I see you again.
