“ To the Family of Ms. Schrock,

I am truly sorry for your dear loss. During your time of grief and sorrow, it is my hope that you are able to find some comfort and hope in knowing that God Almighty has the power and the desire to resurrect our dear loved ones to a paradise earth. You can read such loving promises at John 5:28, 29 and Revelation 21:3-5. Please accept my sympathies.

“ Mom, you were my friend, my confidante, my travel buddy. You were the biggest influence on me. You are the reason I know I can do anything I put my mind to. Our childhood was filled with so many instances of wonder--from animals giving birth in the fields to the lumbermens monument, to the cross in the woods to tequamenon falls and pretty much all points in between, as well as half the continental U.S. Stop, look, absorb. A love of road trips will always be ingrained in me, and I've learned that the journey can be every bit as nice as the destination.

Thanks for the countless hours of playing choo-choo train and airplane on the living room floor. Thanks for sharing the joy of reading with us..Every time I do a crossword you will be there with me.

You were always the best baby holder. That is an undisputed fact. I've never seen a baby you couldn't soothe, calm, and quiet.

Your road trip is over, mom. You've reached your destination. I know you are in the loving arms of those who have gone before you. Rest in peace. I love you, mom.

“ Dear Aunt Shirley,

We will miss you like crazy! We are so thankful to have all the memories of spending time with you whether it was any typical day or on the holidays at my house or my moms. I am so thankful for the cousin lunches, the time you spent with the kids (who absolutely adore you) and all of the other things we did together....Most of all i will miss our "gossip" sessions on the phone, the stories only you could tell, your unique laugh and your smile. We love you!

You always did whatever you could to help anyone who needed it and not only will your departing this life leave an empty whole in our families hearts but in many others as well....

Rest Easy and Fly High Sweet Angel!

Love.
