“ *What can I say? I met Zane briefly many years ago when he and my daughters attended elementary school with him. I was busy with my job and college, so I never got very acquainted with hi, and I'm very sorry for not making and spending time with him as I am for not spending much if any time with my daughters.
Zane, you're with your mom now. I'm sure that you missed her very much. Please forgive me, and till we meet again.

“ I had met Zane shortly after my mom passed away through his neighbor Mary Tyra. He was shy at first and then opened up. He showed me his home and was proud of it. I had contact on and off with him and Kip in the past. I am very sorry the way this happened to him! He didnt deserve it. Zane had lost his good job and his mom. This can be devastating to a person. I had a friend in the past Alice Blaisdell and Zane said that was c ousin? You have my deep sympathy. Just know there are people who care, including me!

“ My fondest memory of Zane was going to his house and meeting him and his partner for the first time, gosh, probably in the mid 80s. I was with his aunt Mia and I remember Zane being so warm and inviting. Had such a good time, i think we may have even watched a strange indie movie on vhs. 😊 Visits after were just as fun. Even though we lost contact years after, i will always keep that memory of such a sweet and fun man Zane was. Praying that he has found his peace and my thoughts go out to my friend Mia and the Blaisdell family. Kelly Coffey

“ There aren't enough words to express what an amazing person my nephew was. We spent so much time together, growing, learning, dealing with hardships. I remember that feeling when he was born and had come home from the hospital, he had a place in my heart from that moment. Even though we'd grown distant in the past few years, he still held that place. I just wish to thank everyone here who shared their sentiments and condolences. Thank you so much.

“ I'm so sorry this happened to you. Apparently there's still a lack of understanding mental illness in our communities officials. This should have been handled much differently; the way it had been handled in the past. You will be missed and never forgotten.

“ Although I never met him, I send my heart felt condolences to all of you. I love you Traci and I'm so proud of you for taking on the heartache of dealing with all of this. I really hope his death is not in vain, and that there is training for public servants ; for the future safety of all ppl would suffer from mental illness.
